chinua achebe is africa s most prominent writer and things fall apart 1958 is the most renowned and widely read african novel in the global literary canon the essays collected in this casebook explore the work s artistic multicultural and global significance from a variety of critical perspectives

this volume addresses three fundamental questions about the interplay between the ethics of globality and spirituality what are the practical implications of spirituality for the condition of life in a turbulent era of violent religious non religious extremism in what way can spirituality the view of love compassion tolerance and mutual recognition encounter mistrust enmity separateness and violence how and in what way can spirituality contribute to the newly emerging global ethics religious scholars distinguish between the esoteric and exoteric sides of belief systems esotericism centres on the inner awareness and conceals a certain spirituality that is only transmittable to those who could successfully pass through a process of initiatic preparation and transpersonal practices to understand the mystical dimensions of existence in contrast exotericism takes the outer dimension of every day consciousness into account and favours the possibility of the popular understanding of the essence of existence in this perspective truth could be grasped by the public without the need of any transpersonal initiative and transformation of consciousness esotericism extends beyond religion and has become the spiritual philosophy of life without the need of being essentially religious it has become common notably in the west to identify oneself as spiritualist without having religious affiliations the condition of globality has provided an unprecedented opportunity for spiritual perspectives to grow ideas perspectives beliefs and philosophies of life are growing outside local national containers to express themselves in different global settings while the forces of globalisation are influencing local identities and cultures while evolving global transformations strengthen people s capability to leave institutionally ordered belief systems it simultaneously enables them to rearrange themselves around alternative perspectives these fundamental transformations cultivate a fabulous landscape for the growth of spirituality in this new edition what was already an expansive work has been updated and further enlarged to include information not only on american and british novelists but also on writers in english from around the world essay from the year 2020 in the subject american studies literature grade a language english abstract despite fateful situations at the end of the 20th century postmodernist literature was developed this type of literature deals more with the psychology of characters and also the readers reflect the bitter reality of the time and was more characterized by pessimism if modernist writers at the end of the day see a light at the end of the tunnel this did not happen with post modernist writers in this essay i will make an analysis of the elements of this literature in one of chinua achebe s most famous works things fall apart

all african is at once a literary piece a social protest and medium of political reassertion all the contributors to the volume share the same objective while examining the works of writers like achebe ngugi ayikwei armah ben okri and gabriel okara the book also highlights the fast growing women s writing and discusses work of women writers like nadine gordimer buchi emecheta mariama ba and ama ata aidoo the meeting between the christian faith and the igbo people s ancestral tradition in achebe s novels appears as a confrontation between two different religious systems and views christianity with its dogmatic claim to announce the absolute truth and igbo religion with no claim to the absoluteness of its truths achebe s portrayal of the two religions is compared with igbo ethnography and recent history in order to show that his picture of his people s religion and its encounter with christianity is authentic
